

FSA Eligible Expenses

FSA Eligible Expenses – Services

- Acupuncture
- Alcoholism and Drug Addiction treatment
- Ambulance services
- Annual physical examination
- Body scan (electronic)
- Chiropractor
- Dental treatments (most)
- Disabled dependent expenses for medical care
- Eye exams
- Eye surgery
- Fertility treatments
- Home for the Intellectually and Developmentally Disabled
- Hospital services (including meals and lodging)
- Laboratory fees (associated with medical care)
- Lead-based paint removal
- Long-term care and services for chronically ill individual
- Nursing home and services
- Organ transplants
- Psychiatric care
- Psychoanalysis
- Psychologist
- Special education
- Therapy
- Transportation expenses for medical treatments and services
- Weight loss program (requires physician's diagnosis)

Continues

FSA Eligible Expenses – Products

- Artificial teeth
- Bandages
- Birth control and contraceptive devices
- Braille reading material
- Breast feeding supplies/lactation expenses
- Capital expenses (home improvements that accommodate a disabled person)
- Communication equipment for the deaf or speech impaired
- Contact lenses and eyeglasses
- Co-pays, co-insurance, and deductibles
- Crutches (purchased or rented)
- Diagnostic devices (blood sugar monitors, blood pressure monitors, etc)
- Guide dog or other service animals
- Hearing aid expenses (batteries, repairs, and maintenance)
- Medical Conference expenses (if related to personal chronic illness)
- Medicare B and D premiums
- Oxygen and oxygen equipment
- Pregnancy test kits
- Prescription drugs and medicine (excluding insulin)
- Prosthesis (including artificial limbs and breast reconstruction surgery)
- Smoking cessation (OTC medicines and treatment plans)

Continues

- X-ray
- Wigs (for hair loss due to disease or medical treatment)
- Vehicular expenses (for operational and design costs that accommodate a disabled person)
- Wheelchairs

NOT FSA Eligible Expenses

- Babysitting, child care or nursing for healthy baby
- Controlled substances (Illegal under federal law, such as marijuana, laetrile, etc)
- Cosmetic surgery not related to a deformity or illness (i.e., facelift, liposuction, etc)
- Dancing lessons
- Diaper services (unless related to effects of disease)
- Electrolysis
- Funeral expenses
- Future medical care
- Hair transplant or removal
- Health club dues
- Household help
- Illegal operations and treatments
- Insurance premiums
- Maternity clothes
- Medicines and pharmaceuticals from another country
- Nonprescription drugs and medicine
- Nutritional supplements
- Swimming lessons
- Teeth whitening
- Veterinary fees (unless for service animal)

FSA Eligible Expenses Require IRS Approval

It's important to remember that qualified expenses must be approved by the IRS.
According to IRS Publication 502:

^